Tulip 2002 Road Rally

July 27, 2002

Come join us at the Tulip 2002 Road Rally, July 27, 2002...

Join the members of the Central Ohio Rally Club for a novice road rally over the rural roads south and southeast of Columbus, Ohio. The Tulip 2002 Road Rally is a 65-mile time-speed-distance road rally designed for ease of course following and enjoyment of both driver and navigator.

This road rally will use international tulip diagrams for instructions with the official mileage given at most turns. The object, as in all time-speed-distance rallies will be for the driver-navigator team to stay on course and to maintain prescribed average speeds. Trophies and merchandise certificates will be awarded to the teams that do the best at being on time at a series of checkpoints. Teams compete in classes based upon experience and type of rally equipment used. The IS NOT a race... Assigned speeds change with the type of road, but are generally between 30 and 40 miles per hour on the county and township roads. This route will cover about 65 miles of smooth, paved roads south and southeast of Columbus. Bring along a clip board, good watch, pen/pencil and a flash light.

Entry is open to any safe, legally licensed vehicle with at least two occupants. (If you have more than two people over the age of 12 in the vehicle you may run, but will not be eligible for trophies.) Pre-Registration and more information on the event is available at the club's web site: www.corc-rally-org (visit the July event page). The event will follow the schedule below:
